Fee Schedule – Sliding Scale

Potential clients who inquire about a need for lower session fees are eligible for a sliding scale option based on the following reported household income (based on a standard 50-minute individual session).

Households making $5000 and above per month pay the standard rate of $75 per session.

Session Fee	Gross Household Income (before taxes)	Initial
$60	$4000 - $4999 per month
$50	$2500 - $3999 per month
$45	$1700 - $2499 per month
$40	$1699 and below per month

Extenuating circumstances related to financial situation/ability to pay for services, and limitations in accessing mental health care may be discussed between counselor and client. Any accommodation for lowered session fees granted by counselor outside of the scope of this policy is justified below:

My initials above and by signing below, I indicate that my gross household income does not exceed the amount listed and I understand that my counselor is charging me a lower fee for counseling services based on this reported income. I agree to report any change (increase or decrease) in household income to my counselor and understand my session fee will be adjusted accordingly.
